

About the F36 application form

Application for revocation of a protected action ballot order

Who can use this form

You should use this form to lodge an application to revoke a protected action ballot order if you are a bargaining representative to a proposed enterprise agreement:

- who has lodged an application for a protected action ballot order (Form F34 application); and
- you are seeking to have the order revoked.

An application can be made any time before the date by which voting in the protected action ballot closes.

About protected action ballots

Before industrial action can be lawfully taken, it must be authorised by a protected action ballot (s.409(2)).

A protected action ballot is conducted after the Fair Work Commission (the Commission) has made a protected action ballot order.

The Commission must revoke a protected action ballot order if the person or organisation that applied for the order applies to have it revoked before voting in the protected action ballot closes (s.448).

For more information, please see the Commission's protected action ballots web page.

Lodging and serving your completed form

1. Lodge with the Commission:

- This form, and
- A copy of the protected action ballot order to which this application relates.

Legal or other representation

Representation is where another person (such as a lawyer or paid agent, or an employee of a union or employer organisation) speaks or acts on a person's behalf, or assists a person in certain other ways in relation to a matter before the Commission. There is no requirement to be represented at the Commission.

There are some restrictions on representation by a lawyer or paid agent.

Generally, a person must give notice to the Commission (by lodging a Form F53 – Notice that a person: (a) has a lawyer or paid agent; or (b) will seek permission for a lawyer or paid agent to participate in a conference or hearing) and seek permission from the Commission Member dealing with the matter if they wish to have a lawyer or paid agent represent them by participating in a conference or a hearing.

Apart from participating in a conference or hearing, a person's lawyer or paid agent can represent them without permission, unless the Commission decides otherwise. For example, the lawyer or paid agent can prepare and lodge written applications, responses and submissions with the Commission, and communicate in writing with the Commission and other parties to the matter on the person's behalf.

The requirement to give notice and seek permission for a lawyer or paid agent to participate in a conference or hearing, does not apply if the lawyer or paid agent is:

- an employee or officer of the person or
- a bargaining representative that is representing the person or
- an employee or officer of an employee or employer organisation, or an association of employers or a peak council, that is representing the person.

Rule 13(2) of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2024 sets out further exceptions to the requirement to give notice and seek permission.

For more information about representation by lawyers and paid agents, see section 596 of the Fair Work Act 2009, rules 11, 12, 13 and 14 of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2024 and the Commission's practice note on representation by lawyers and paid agents.

Glossary of common terms

Applicant – This is the person or organisation that is making an application.

Jurisdictional objection – This is a type of objection a Respondent can raise to an application. A Respondent can make this kind of objection if they think that the Commission, for a technical or legal reason, cannot hear the matter.

Lawyer – This is a person who is admitted to the legal profession by a Supreme Court of a State or Territory.

Paid agent – In relation to a matter before the Commission, is an agent (other than a bargaining representative) who charges or receives a fee to represent a person in the matter.

Party – A party is an Applicant, Respondent or another person or organisation involved in a matter or case that is brought to the Commission.

Respondent – The person or organisation responding to an application made by an Applicant.

Service – Serving a document means giving a copy of the document to a person or organisation, usually to the other party to the matter. You can serve a document in a number of ways, including by email, express or registered post, or in person. Part 5 of Chapter 1 and Schedule 1 of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2024 deal with service.
